

HOST-ONLY GUIDE

Your event host playbook

You are still a participant. Your role is simply to help everyone feel welcome and keep the conversation moving naturally.

PRIVATE HOST MATERIAL

This guide and the assigned questions are only visible to the host.

Before everyone arrives

- Arrive about 10 minutes early and check that the reservation and table are ready.
- Keep the event pack handy, but join the event as another participant rather than acting like staff.
- Welcome people as they arrive and help them find the table.

How to guide the event

1 · AT THE START	Introductions	Once everyone has arrived — or about 30 minutes after the start — introduce yourself with your name, where you are from, and what you do. Choose the next person, then let each person choose who follows.
2 · AROUND DRINKS OR 1 HOUR IN	Sharing time	Introduce the sharing questions. Draw or read one question and nominate someone to answer. The person who answers chooses who answers next.
3 · AROUND THE FOOD OR 90 MINUTES IN	Spicy time	Move to the playful questions when the table feels comfortable. Answer the first one yourself, then nominate the next person. For brunches, keep the tone lighter and use the lower-intensity questions first.
4 · AT THE END	Close naturally	There is no formal ending. Thank everyone for coming and remind them that feedback in the app unlocks private messaging with the people from their table.

Keep the table comfortable

- Anyone may skip a question without explaining why.
- Invite quieter people in without putting them on the spot.
- Do not rush a good conversation just to complete every question.
- Keep personal details and stories from the table private.
- If a problem needs follow-up, tell the founders after the event.

If an unexpected person joins

Politely explain that this is a private event with a named reservation and a confirmed guest list. Ask them not to join the table. Do not argue; ask restaurant staff for help if needed, and tell the founders afterward.

If you need help

If something urgent changes before the event, contact the founders through the usual club support channel. During the event, make the safest, most considerate choice and report anything important afterward.

Printable materials

Download the event pack before you leave home. Print the question cards and cut them out if the pack is provided in that format.

Sharing time

Warm, inclusive prompts that help the table get to know one another.

Spicy time

More playful prompts for later in the event. Anyone can pass on a question.

The event-specific question cards are supplied separately by the founders.